Hostility toward education and expression through art is openly promoted. Academics and artists are often censored and even arrested.

Disdain for the Intellectuals and the Arts

Disdain for the Recognition of Human Rights

Under fascism, exceptions are made to deny human rights:

Examples:

- freedom from slavery (except as punishment for crime).
- right to assemble (if you have a permit).
- presumed innocence (unless law enforcement "fear for their safety").

The military receives disproportionate funding, while domestic issues are neglected. Soldiers and military service are glamorized.

Supremacy of the Military

"...there is no such thing as too much"

Corporate Power is Protected

A mutually beneficial relationship exists between government leaders and the industrial and business interests that put them in power.

Media is controlled (indirectly or directly) by the government, media spokespeople, and/or executives. Censorship, especially in war time, is very common.

Rampant Sexism

Fascist nations are largely male-dominated and traditional gender roles are made more rigid. Opposition to abortion is high, as is homophobia and anti-gay legislation.
